

Paige Huston
Contra Dance Caller
Tucson, Arizona

Paige began Contra dancing in 2016. She was hooked after her very first dance, and soon after she attended a caller's class under the tutelage of Donna Calhoun in Knoxville, Tennessee. Paige moved to Tucson, Arizona at the end of 2017, and began calling on a more regular basis in 2019.

Paige's aim when putting together a program is to build from easy, accessible dances at the start of the evening to more interesting and challenging dances as the evening progresses. She has an extensive background in movement and safety, and brings those skills to her calling. Her favorite aspect of Contra dancing is the collaborative and cooperative environment that is created when people work together to have fun and build community through dancing and music.

Paige's biggest challenge with dancing and calling is her irregular work schedule. She is extremely grateful to the Tucson Contra dance community for their flexibility and understanding in scheduling her to call. Paige can be reached at unicornmoto@gmail.com.
